Play Therapy is a dynamic and powerful way of working with children and young people that have a range of emotional issues or needs. The therapist meets the child through the language of play. This is an opportunity for you to gain insight into the world of therapeutic play. This one day introduction course is designed for people that have an interest in becoming a Play Therapist or would like to know more about Play Therapy or commissioning Play Therapy services. The introduction to Play Therapy course will offer you the opportunity to gain an insight into the theory and practice of Play Therapy and experience first hand some of the techniques that the therapist uses in working with children, young people and families.

The course will also allow you to:

- Gain a clear understanding of what Play Therapy is and how it helps children
- By attending this training, you will leave with an insight into Play Therapy as a career and how to go about training as a Play Therapist.
- You will discover some of the key theories and efficacy of Play Therapy
- You will gain information about how to purchase Play Therapy services
- The opportunities to experience first hand some Play Therapy techniques and gain invaluable tools that can be used with children, young people and families.
- At the end of the training you will be able to identify when a child or a young person needs Play Therapy.
- This training will enable you to take away tools and ideas to aid communication through play with children and young people.
- You will have the opportunity to learn in a safe high quality training environment, where learning is enjoyable.

“The course is interesting and fun. At Jogo we are focused on taking your knowledge about Play Therapy to the next level.”
